Jesus Christ ~ the Theme of Our Lives!
Everything We Have Need of is Found in Him.

Jesus was a man who claimed to be God. Think about this for a moment. If this were true, how would it change the way you thought, felt and lived your life?

No one is more loved or hated than Jesus. This is not surprising, since He's the most famous person in all of human history. More songs have been sung to Him, artwork created of Him, and books written about Him than anyone who's ever lived. Even our calendar is based on His life, dividing time before and after Him.

Naturally, someone this important will have fans and foes.
A lot of people have an idea of who Jesus is. They may get this idea from TV or movies, maybe from past church experience and Sunday school felt boards, from history books, or maybe from just hearsay. Just because we have ideas of who Jesus is doesn't mean we actually know Him.

At Missions Church Orlando, we believe that Jesus is God.
We take Him at His word. Everything we do is all about Jesus. We recognize that the only way to really know Jesus is to understand what the Bible says about Him, which includes what He said about Himself. We invite you to learn more about this man who is God and how you can find new life and forgiveness in Him.

Listening at the Cross

The following excerpt was taken from The Cross by Rod Parsley

The few remaining observers on Golgotha heard the man on the center cross shout something about His God having abandoned Him. A little later He had whispered a request for water—one that was answered, not with a ladle of cooling, soothing water but with a vinegar-filled sponge. Now we see the expiring troubadour of heaven summoning His last remnants of physical and mental strength...rising to speak once more.

Just one word this time.

When John, the beloved disciple, recalls this statement to record it in his Gospel narrative, he uses a Greek accounting term – tetelestai. Future English translations of John's Gospel will render that term in a way that tends to strip it of the legal and financial connotations. They translate it, "It is finished" (three words for one). But tetelestai does not mean merely that a thing has ended. It has a far greater implication than merely a clock has run out and the game has concluded. It is a declaration that all has been accomplished. All that was lacking has now been supplied. The breach has been healed. The debt has been fully satisfied. Shalom—nothing broken, nothing missing.

Charles Spurgeon called this declaration, "Christ's dying word to the church." But our King's proclamation carries even more dimensions of meaning than this. He means that all the types, shadows, and symbols of the Old Testament have now been fully manifested in Him. He decrees that the prophecies that pointed to a future Deliverer King have been fulfilled. John the Baptist had asked, "Are you the One or should we look for another?" Jesus' answer at that time was suggestive but indirect. Now He speaks plainly. His "Tetelestai!" emphatically shouts, "You can stop looking! The promised One has appeared and accomplished the prophesied task. Dominion of planet earth has been restored to its rightful steward."

As Spurgeon wrote of this victory cry:

[T]he whole Bible, from the first to the last, in both the Law and the Prophets, was finished in Him! There is not a single jewel of promise, from the first emerald which fell on the threshold of Eden, to the last sapphire of Malachi which was not set in the breastplate of the true high Priest. No, there is not a type, from red heifer downward to the turtle dove, from the hyssop upwards to Solomon's Temple itself, which was not fulfilled in Him; and not a prophecy, whether spoken on Chebar's bank or on the shores of Jordan; not a dream of wise men, whether they had received it in Babylon, or in Samaria, or in Judea, which was not now fully worked out in Christ Jesus!

Finally, in that cry of consummation, Jesus declared an end to separated man's religious striving to build a ladder back to God. God Himself has donned flesh and bone and blood and condescended to fallen men and willingly lain down on a cross.

"It is finished!" we hear Him cry aloud. Then He slowly, reverently, and with victorious humility bows that thorn-pierced head. Yes, of course, He bows now. There is nothing left to do but exhale a prayer.

John 19:29-30 Amplified Bible (AMP)

²⁹A vessel (jar) full of sour wine (vinegar) was placed there, so they put a sponge soaked in the sour wine on [a stalk, reed of] hyssop, and held it to [His] mouth. ³⁰When Jesus had received the sour wine, He said, It is finished! And He bowed His head and gave up His spirit.

Prayer Starter

Matthew 6:10-13 The Message + JB Phillips + NKJV

¹⁰Our Heavenly Father, reveal who You are. Set the world right; may Your name be honoured and Your kingdom come, and Your will be done as above, so below... For Your's is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen!

- LORD, thank You for today. Every day is a new day!
- We make a decision to look up and be lifted up by You
- We cover the body of Christ in the blood of Jesus
- The blood has done it all!
- Jesus, we apply Your blood over our nation
- We're looking for a greater revelation of Your blood
- Doubts and deceptions about the blood must be gone! There's power in Your blood Jesus!
- Help us to appropriate everything that You died to give us – full, abundant life is in the blood!
- The fullness of power and victory is found in it!
- LORD, thank You for the efficacy of Your blood!
- It is sufficient and works 24/7
- We cover those who have walked away in the blood!
- Praying over them and Your plans for them, Father
- Every step that will bring them back is being set before them – bring laborers across their paths!
- Don't miss your timing to come back! Don't forsake the words that have been spoken over you!
- Wipe the dust off of your Bible, start reading it again.
- The pathway they are to take is covered in the blood and it makes a way for them!
- Hidden things be uncovered by the blood
- Low places are filled in and high places are leveled out
- We extract every operation that would try to hinder any believer from coming back to God
- Pleading the blood over their choice to make the first step! Enemy plans, stop in your maneuvers!
- It is finished! The blood has sealed those doors!
- Your blood covers and restores relationships.
- We'll make much of Your blood Jesus and it will make much of us! Amen!
